Old Hong Kong

One morning, Sam woke up in his bedroom. He looked out of the window and saw he was in a strange place. He did not know what was going on. He was worried. He walked for a long time to look for his parents.

Suddenly, he saw a park. He went into the park. He couldn't see any electronic games. He could only see two girls. He asked, 'Why don't we have electronic games here?' Then the two girls replied, 'We don't have any electronic games. It is the old Hong Kong. It is now the year of 1936!' Sam was shocked and sad.

After a while, no one played with Sam. He was lonely and upset. He said, 'I want to go home!' The girls worried about him; they tried hard to comfort him.

Suddenly, the alarm clock woke Sam up! Sam said, 'The old Hong Kong is just a dream!'

Teacher's comment: You can write your story vividly. Keep it up!
