Sam Woke Up One Day

One day, Sam woke up in the morning. He looked out of the window. He saw some old short buildings and some people in old clothes.

He went into a park. He saw two beautiful girls playing hopscotch. He wanted to play with them.

He missed his family. He felt sad. He wanted to go home. The two girls wanted to know about him.

The girls felt worried about the boy and they helped him to go back home. He was woken up by the alarm clock. He was dreaming at that time He was confused.

He was very happy in the end.

Teacher's comment: You can write an interesting story neatly and tidily.
