My Trip to Yau Tsim Mong District

My trip to Yau Tsim Mong district was a joyful journey!

In the morning, I went to the Avenue of Stars. I saw some statues of celebrities. I liked them, especially Bruce Lee! He's very famous. I was amazed to see that.

In the afternoon, I walked to the Hong Kong Science Museum. Inside, I saw a lot of models about physics. I was very interested, and I spent a long time exploring the physics galleries. After seeing them, I learnt a lot about physics.

In the evening, I went shopping at Temple Street Night Market. There were shops selling things from clothes and accessories to traditional and nostalgic food. And instead of buying groceries at their original prices, the buyers and sellers will bargain, so I got goods at good deal. Moreover, I had claypot rice, a famous nostalgic snack and I loved it!
