An Email to John

Hi John,

How are you? You won't believe what happened to me today. This morning, I went to school by bus with my classmates. I put my school bag and lunch bag on an empty seat next to me. When the bus arrived at our school. I got off the bus only with my school bag, but I left my lunch bag behind!

During lunchtime, I found that I left my lunch bag on the bus. I was very worried because I had no food to eat. When my classmates found out, they shared some of their food with me. Kenny even lent me some money to buy food at the tuck shop. I was very touched. I have learnt a lesson today. I should be more careful and take good care of my belongings.

How about you? Have you been such forgetful before? Please write soon.

Best wishes,

Daniel

Teacher's comment: Nice ideas! Daniel really had some good classmates! Your writing could be better if you tried to use more different connectives and adjectives.
